

Archives Week 2003

MAIN STREET MURALS

Reflections of Tradition

Olive Rush mural at Santa Fe Public Library. School of American Research, Public Works of Art Photograph Collection #5496 - New Mexico State Archives.

On Thursday, October 9, 2003, the New Mexico State Records Center and Archives presents Main Street Murals: Reflections of Tradition. New Mexico authors, muralists, scholars, educators and students will share their work and research. Murals capture historical and contemporary perspectives and economic and social issues, as well as communal relationships. For this reason, murals are important to historical interpretation. Primary research documents regarding the arts are available in the State Archives. A comprehensive list of collection citations will be provided at the session.

Special Guests

Laurie Evans, Program Manager
Scenic Byways Program
Department of Transportation

Sam Leyba, Vice President and Artist
El Museo Cultural de Santa Fe

Vanessa Valore, Owner and Artist
Valore Ventures

Kathy Flynn, Executive Director
National New Deal Preservation Association

Hayley Klein, Program Manager
Nancy Dunn, Volunteer
Artesia Main Street Program

4:00-7:00 pm

New Mexico State Records Center and Archives - Room 2027
1209 Camino Carlos Rey - Santa Fe, NM 87507

Refreshments provided by the New Mexico State Records Center and Archives and Starbucks Coffee. Door prizes provided by the New Mexico State Library.

Archives Week Sponsors: New Mexico Commission of Public Records, National Hispanic Cultural Center, New Mexico Jewish Historical Society, Round the Round House, Starbucks Coffee, First National Bank of Santa Fe, Los Alamos National Bank, State Employees Credit Union, Coca Cola, La Fonda, Cook's Tru-Value Mercantile, Alphagraphics, Cities of Gold Casino, Smith's Video, the Institute for Spanish Arts, Pepsi, and Fred's Famous Flowers.

Visit our event listing at www.nmcpr.state.nm.us/ or call (505)476.7948.